

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Where do the resident students live?

A: They live in the dormitory rooms of Husson University.

Q: Do you provide breakfast and dinner for resident students?

A: Yes, we do. 3 meals a day will be provided every Monday to Friday. For students who do not plan to stay during the weekends, they should leave for home after Friday's class and come back to the camp on Monday morning or Sunday evening.

Q: Is there any fee charge for students who stay there on Saturday and Sunday?

A: The program runs from Monday through Friday so there will be $250 charge for the students who stay over the two Saturdays and Sundays.

Q: In the past, what percentages of the students live as residents and what percentage commute?

A: Only 15/50 students who live 50 miles away from Bangor are possible to have the dorm space to stay.

Q: How many adults are there in charge of the resident students?

A: Two resident advisors: one male and one female. They will stay with dorm students all the time after scheduled classes. They will reside in the residence hall with students.

Q: What do the students do in the evening and what kind of bed time schedule is there?

A: The daily after school schedule for resident students are:

4:00 pm – 5:00 pm: free time

5:00 pm – 6:00 pm: dinner time

6:00 pm – 7:30 pm: sports time (ping pang, pool, swimming, basketball, volleyball, or walking in the local woods paths)

7:30 pm – 9:30 pm: study hall/Chinese movie

10:00 pm – 7:30 am: bed time

7:30 am – 8:30 am: breakfast

Q: On weekends when there are not scheduled classes, what do the resident students do?

A: After enough sleep to recharge the past very busy week, students may cook Chinese food with help from the staff of Bangor Chinese School: they will determine what they will cook, what ingredients need to buy and create invitations in Chinese to invite their classmates to come to the party; they may also be visited to the local Chinese restaurants/families to practice their Chinese and/or attend the contests with Chinese speaking and writing. The specific schedule will be available on the first day of the program.

Q: Does he/she have a roommate or multiple roommates and what age range is there with roommates?

A: 2 students per room; our teachers will do their best to have similar ages of children in one room.
